

Prayas@Home

Objective

The objective of Prayas@Home is to make the technology based education and training available and accessible to the outstation individuals with Autism Spectrum Disorders at home by empowering parents.

Benefits of Prayas@Home

1. Empowering parents towards computer skills through knowledge sharing.
2. Providing easy accessibility at home.
3. Providing a conducive environment for learning.
4. Cost effective programme
5. It is a value for money and time.
6. It will provide free accessibility to in house workshops.
7. It will provide accessibility to new content.

Duration of Prayas@Home

Ten months

Methodology of Prayas@Home

1. The entire content can be divided in to three training Modules.
2. Two days at one weekend Training is imparted to parents on each module. This will be repeated every three months; June, September and December.
3. Training will be given on the curriculum, its principles, method of teaching, recording, assessment and evaluation techniques.
4. Parents will be given practical to strengthen the learning.
5. At the end of 10 months the student will be evaluated by the trainers at Prayas; March end of each year at Prayas lab.
6. Students will be given certificate of training.